ABOUT

Make an art
of your passion

Superb craftsmanship and a passion for the aesthetic components of design are Italian artisan Sergio Sassolini's greatest strengths. He learned the art of carpentry by working with his father when he was sixteen. Only a few years later, dedication and love for his job led him to establish his own business near Florence. In addition to creating custom-made products for his clients, he collaborates with accomplished designers and architects. Over the years, Sergio has constantly reinvented his design, experimenting with different materials while preserving the quality and beauty of the made-in-Italy label on all of his products, which he has exported across the world

Company Philosophy

Working with leading architectural firms has allowed us to expand and improve our work skills. "It is impossible for a man to learn what he believes he already knows". That's why we have never set limits to the challenges that illustrious architects have proposed us. Create custom furniture with precious materials, such as wood, steel, fabric, marble and glass, allowed us to satisfy customers who have seen realized their own dream, from its planning up to live it.

COLLECTION

Alchimia

For centuries, alchemists have pursued the dream of finding the "philosopher's stone", a mysterious substance that would have allowed them to transform the crudest and poorest metals into precious ones. "Alchemy" was precisely called the search for the magical "fecundating matter", which would have made this transformation possible.

"Alchemy": a word that over time has lost its scientific and esoteric value, assuming a more mysterious and magical one. But it is then possible to attribute a concrete, tangible value to this word, because this transformation process can be a reality, by obtaining a noble and precious object from a raw material. Our bar cabinet holds the symbols of this ancient "art." A handcrafted casket with cannetè processing, topped by a precious onyx top, which contains a magic of light and mirrors. In this case, the "fecundating matter" was the synergy of many different professionals, united by the sole intention of creating beauty.
